Design for rural areas

Strategies

Encourage development between townships to be sited away from main roads.
Use finishes and colours that complement those found naturally in the hinterland landscape.
Site buildings and structures away from geological features such as volcanic cones, craters and lakes.